“ We all have our journeys, others may not understand us, others give up, some forgive ..no matter what.. You were loved, whether you accepted it or not, you were forgiven, you just needed to receive it. Now your gone, alone with your sadness. Their is a family who will never know, yet HOPE all can find peace and in knowing you are now at peace , maybe for the first time ever.. sleep with angels Uncle Rickey..

“ In memory of my beloved brother Rickey, I pray you are in God's loving arms. I loved you with all my heart. I feel the pain and loneliness you had to end life this tragic way. I expected a call from you like the thousands of calls you made to me. I know now your mental anguish was unbearable. I have letters from you telling me you loved me and thanking me for being your sister. I was honored to be your sister. Being there for you was what sisters do. I keep thinking of the commandment "Honor thy Mother and Father" and the many verses about forgiveness. I wish you had been given that. I will cherish the letters and all the childhood memories. One memory stands out. I bought my first car and came to pick you up. You had a pellet gun you wanted to show me. You fired it up in air and we heard a crack. The pellet came down and cracked my windshield. I never got upset as it was a mistake we went on with drive and had a good time.Hope you are with Mom now. She loved you dearly. I'm suffering and in time I will see you again. Experiencing your death is so personal that very few can understand the grief involved. I'm so, thankful you had a wonderful,caring, faithful friend Gary to talk with and help you along your journey. Well, baby brother I will talk to you constantly and pray daily. I miss you , but will keep your memory alive with suicide prevention line in your honor. Forever in my heart.

Love,
Your sister
Kathy
