January 26, 2024

Brian Schlicher, 63, died at home in Allentown on January 26th. He was the son of Robert and Loretta (Burgess) Schlicher, and brother of Robert Schlicher, all of Freemansburg. Brian was a big Pittsburgh Steelers fan and loved to watch football the whole season. He enjoyed fishing and spending time in Canada with family, especially his cousins. His occupations were delivery and baking, working with companies such as Utz, Leone Bakery, Krick's Bakery, and Vegan Treats. After he became disabled, he enjoyed spending more time with his grandson and binge watching Survivor. He loved a good steak and often reminisced of his mother's cooking and baking. He also loved music, particularly Ronnie James Dio

He is survived by his daughter, Kalli and her mother, Melissa; son-in-law, Graham, and his grandson, Richard, all of Allentown; as well as a daughter, Kerri, in Arizona.

Services are at the convenience of the family.

“ Where to begin.... thank you for being a part of my life, a long time ago and again more recently. Thank you for the gift of the daughter we share. Though there was alot we didn't see eye to eye on like football and wrestling, i am glad these past years that you lived with Kalli to rebuild a friendship. Watch over her!
