My ex-husband and I also met Pam and Jason through mutual music interests and concerts. The few times that we did get to meet up, he always had a smile on his face. So very sorry for your loss, Pam, and the rest of Jason's family and close friends, too.

“ I am Jason's sister-in-law and he was a great guy and loved his wife with all his heart. We would get together at Christmas almost every year with Gary as the Chief. He passed to the other side in 2018 and he will be there in to help Jason cross over. He helped Gary with yard work after a storm and me with Gary's business when he died. Only time will heal the people loved him for this sudden death.

He love heavy metal rock and roll as Pam does also. Gary and I bought him a Kiss book for Christmas one year and he loved it. Keep on rocking in the heavenly ski and rest in peace my friend

Peace and love to all his family and friends at this time of sorrow.
