“ John and I may have met when we were Chem Lab Partners during those quadruple mods at CCHS. We became good friends in high school and during the immediate years after. During the summers of our younger years, the gang of us (along with Farkas, Feiertag, Kroboth, Pavlacka, and others) went down for good times at the Jersey shore in Wildwood. Down there, John wore this radiant white dress shirt with columns of fruit---maybe oranges, or apples. One night, we made far too many burgers, and John happily went around the Motel handing out the extras to the Senior Citizens.

We lost touch over the years. I often wondered how he was doing. It's been almost 40 years since I last saw him, yet I can feel his loss. We had a nickname for him back then...maybe it started with that shirt...he was "Sunshine" to us.

My deepest sympathies to John's family,

Dear Liz, we send you our deepest sympathy on the loss of your darling John. He certainly kept us entertained on the Mississippi River cruise. I know he was a devoted husband and a fine man. I won't forget him. You are in my prayers as you struggle to manage without John at your side.

“ My last words to Rog were "STFU, I will talk to you in a few days!" trying to ease his mind as he was doing what he always did in making sure people were taken care of. Had I even had a clue... I wouldn't have changed a thing other than to make sure he knew he was finally coming out of Caveman status now that he was the last person on earth to get a cell phone. Now who is going to call me The Lord? I don't think I'll ever be able to fill his slot in FFB... I'll just draft the garbage he usually did so I can remember him each week and smile. I never got to make him the amazing dinner he said he never got when he visited... there are so many amazing memories I could write a novel.

All the times he told me I should not worry with my business and how I was overreacting. I hope I didn't fail to ease his mind the one time I was called upon. Rog was always good for making you see the bottom line and laugh about the rest. I wish I could live the way he did from that perspective, there wasn't much that ever bothered him. I am going to miss that the most.

Say hi to dad for me....

On our drive home I just broke down every time a Styx or Steve Miller song came on. Throughout the years he was always the Styx guy and I was Steve Miller. I remember we went to see a concert and I had to call him when Fly Like an Eagle was played.. we could hardly hear each other but it was something we shared. I hope he is doing just that.... Later dork! I will see you again sometime.

“ I didn't know Roger well, but had the opportunity to meet him on another somber occasion, the passing of his dad. Knowing his brother for decades and spending some time with his dad, I have a sense for the kind of man he was. Jim is everything a friend should be, loyal, fun loving, honest, and reliable. The Kromer men are a rare breed. Roger will be missed.

“ Rog, my life will never be the same without you, you were more than a brother. You were always there to pick me up when I was down, like when I was heading out for a trip on Sunday night and at breakfast I would hear those precious words from your mouth: Jebotz, you're already in the truck, you don't leave till tonight. Saying I'm going to miss you just don't get it, because there are no words. I was at 6:30am Mass today which I offered up to you, but you already know that because you were sittin right there next to me. Holy shit man what am I going to do without you, you were such a big part of my life. I love you Rog, RIP, I'll see you soon. JEBOTZ and your friend DRIVE BY

“ Liz,

I was shocked when I heard of your husbands' passing. I had worked with John for a number of years and knew him to be a very personable and friendly guy. I am truly sorry to know he was taken from us so suddenly. The pain you feel now and in the coming days, months, and years is like no other feeling in the world. Be gentle with yourself and lean on family and friends when you need to. Knowing he is by your side, always.....I hope brings you some comfort. Talk to him, he is listening.

“ Dear Liz,

My heart is breaking for you.

Looking at this picture of Roger just reminds me of the times our paths crossed and it makes me chuckle. It's mentioned that he had a nickname for people. There was a gesture he would make when he saw me...no it's not "that gesture" (wink). He always had a twinkle in his eyes. I mean, look at this pic, here! Exactly how I will always remember him.

This is hard, Liz. It's hard on those who had the privilege of being a part of his daily life. There is a huge void in your life. But in my mind, death is not dying. I hope you hang on the hope that we are assured of because of what Jesus did on the Cross. Jesus defeated death. This life as we know it is temporary. Roger is now experiencing eternal life. Reminds me of that song I Can Only Imagine. Can you imagine what he is seeing now!

I pray your grief is light and that you feel God's indescribable peace in all the days to follow. I am always here for you. I will continue to pray that our loving Father gives you the exact measure of faith and strength you need to get through those days when you miss Roger.

I love you.

“ My deepest sympathies go out to my sister, his mother and brother and his wife. To all of his loved family, friends and coworkers. Roger was indeed one of a kind or as they would say a rare breed of a person but so well loved by us all. We are all so heartbroken over his loss. Roger was my brother in law but so much more than that. He was so loved by us all over the simplest things that life has to offer. He could make you laugh over the most ridiculous things that can happen in life and turn it into the most hilarious story when describing it back to you. The world will not be the same without you dearest Roger. You were taken too soon but you must have a purpose waiting for you. RIP Roger and watch over my beloved sister Elizabeth. Hugs and kisses to all his beloved family.

“ It truly is devastating to lose such a joyful person. Roger and liz have been friends with my parents for a very long time, and I always enjoy his company. I will never forget making creepy crawlers with him when I was a child or the funny stories he always told and the nicknames he had for everyone. Or when he would say "look at that helmet" when referring to someones hairstyle. I enjoyed going out to dinner with them and just talking for hours about memories we all shared. It is truly heartbreaking to know I will never be able to hear his great voice or his funny laugh or see his happy smile ever again. But he will forever live in our minds and in our hearts. I will always cherish these memories I got to create. Roger I promise Matika, Jimmy and I will look after Liz and be there for her the best we can. Love you and miss you my friend, until we meet again.
