“ Millie was a low key but such a supportive presence during the several later decades we knew her. Her hubby, the Rev. Joe Carr and my husband, the Rev. Allan Kramer-Moyer were colleagues, but I got to know Millie more after we both were helpers of a mutual friend, Elsie Christman. When Elsie could no longer function as Elsie's hands on helper, I stepped in along with Allan. We used to celebrate Elsie's birthday as a foursome. Millie impressed Allan so much when she would tell how she dragged 40 lb. bags of salt down the basement steps for her water softener. We visited Millie occasionally at Phoebe and will miss her. Our thoughts and prayers go out to Rebecca and Hope during this time of loss,
